CHAPTER 1

INTRODUCTION

1.1 Introduction

Floral jewellery has become increasingly popular in recent years, as people look for unique and eco-friendly alternatives to traditional jewellery. With the rise of e-commerce, floral jewellery has also found its place in the online market, enabling businesses to reach customers worldwide.

The purpose of this project report is to document the development and design of an e-commerce website for floral jewellery, from the initial planning phase to the final implementation. This report aims to provide a comprehensive overview of the project, including the requirements, design, functionality, and testing of the website. It will also highlight the challenges faced during the development process and the strategies used to overcome them. Through this project report, we hope to provide insights into the e-commerce industry and how businesses can leverage the power of technology to expand their reach and grow their business in the floral jewellery industry.

OBJECTIVE

2.1 PROBLEM DEFINITION

The floral jewellery industry has gained popularity due to the increasing demand for eco-friendly and sustainable alternatives to traditional jewellery. However, despite the growth potential of the industry, many floral jewellery businesses struggle to reach their target audience and expand their customer base.

This project aims to address this problem by developing an e-commerce website for a floral jewellery business. The website will enable the business to reach a wider audience and provide an online platform for customers to browse, purchase and customize their floral jewellery.

The goal of this project is to provide a solution to the challenges faced by the floral jewellery industry and create a seamless and user-friendly e-commerce website that can help businesses grow and succeed in this niche market.

5. AJAX: Used to create asynchronous requests to the server without refreshing the entire page, allowing for smoother and more responsive user interactions.
6. jQuery: Used as a JavaScript library to simplify the coding of common JavaScript tasks and enhance the user interface of the website.

7. MySQL: Used as a popular relational database management system to store and organize data for the website.
 8. Bootstrap: A front-end framework that provides pre-designed HTML, CSS, and JavaScript components for creating responsive and mobile-first web pages.
- Overall, Bootstrap contributed to the project's success by providing a robust and efficient framework for creating a visually appealing and responsive website.

Chapter 4 Implementation

4.1 System Overview

The e-commerce website is a web-based platform that allows customers to browse and purchase products and store owners to manage orders and inventory. The website was built using HTML, CSS, JS, Bootstrap, PHP, MySQL, AJAX, and jQuery. These technologies were used to create a responsive, dynamic, and visually appealing website that meets the needs of both customers and store owners. The combination of these technologies allowed for a robust and efficient platform that is easy to use and maintain.
